

Summer Institute on Union Women

Women Workers of the World Unite!

The annual Western Regional Summer Institute on Union Women (SIUW) is a four-day residential conference sponsored by UALE, hosted this year by the UCLA Labor Center. The four-day residential program brings together workers and leaders from unions, worker centers and community organizations from the United States' and Canada's western regions, Mexico, and Central America. The conference features workshops on the history, struggles and achievements of working women and the opportunity for participants to share strategies, information, experience and skills.

Save the Date: August 9th-August 13th, 2016 at UCLA
